

The RSNA annual meeting is the premier international forum for radiologic science and technology. Be there to:

Meet your target audience, face to face.

Radiology professionals and corporate healthcare executives—more than 27,500 of them—attend the RSNA annual meeting to see the latest innovations in radiologic science and to shop for products. These are your potential customers, all assembled in one location for the largest medical meeting in the world.

Establish a presence among industry leaders.

The RSNA 2007 technical exhibition occupied a record 535,300 square feet, featuring 757 leading manufacturers, suppliers and developers of medical technology. In 2008, your competition will invest time, money, and creativity to reach RSNA's growing audience. Make your presence known this year.

Be a part of the world's largest medical meeting.

The RSNA annual meeting is not just a tradeshow. It's an international medical forum where attendees come to experience:

Refresher Courses

300 refresher courses cover traditional and cutting-edge topics.

Scientific Papers/Posters

2,000 scientific posters and papers detail hypothesis-driven research.

Education Exhibits

1,600 education exhibits teach or review radiologic signs, procedures, techniques, treatments or other aspects related to medical imaging.

Hands-on Computer Workshops

Interactive classes conducted by commercial leaders in the industry on their respective proprietary computer systems.

Molecular Imaging Zone

An area focused on the emerging science of molecular imaging. Technical exhibitors with molecular imaging products feature the Molecular Imaging Zone logo at their booths.
